I'm the Hot Sister

In a Clover Canyon dress and Jimmy Choos, Khloé Kardashian proved she's the sister to be keeping up with at the Today show on May 29

DR. JENN:

"Usually when women lose weight, they feel added confidence. The bold print here says, 'Look at me!' while her long hair and red nails show a woman who's enjoying her feminine side."

JANET:

"Color her happy! After a 30-pound weight loss, it looks like Khloé's packed away her black ensembles and has the confidence to rock the rainbow!"

ROBERT:

"While Kim's in the wings, Khloé's embraced the moment — girls who wear color want to be noticed! I don't like the matchiness, but lucky for her, LA girls look good in cheap dresses."

YOUR SAY:

"Move over, Kim — Khloé's in the spotlight now!"
